

Our Community our Priority:

RCEM is a part of a whole system where each constituent has a role towards nation building. As an educational institute, it has to ensure that the students learn and inculcate what the society can benefit out of their learning. The students after their completion of education are expected to do what is socially useful. The parents and the society have a lot of aspiration from them. Their responsible behaviour would strengthen the society. The community would stand to reap rich dividend from their contribution to the society and the nation as a whole. In this perspective, RCEM has a policy to educate the students of the college through their participation in all social and cultural activities. Besides, students participate in all such social activities where they learn the joy of giving and living. In this direction our priority is community development, be it an activity of cleansing the weeds from the local canals, teaching down trodden people of local slums, donating blood, attending the orphanage and spending time with them or providing dresses or blankets to the needy. Apart from learning subjects as per the course curriculum, they learn empathy which is vital for healthy growth of the community.

Welcome to the Rajdhani College of Engineering and Management, Bhubaneswar

It is a pleasure for to share the thoughts. As we look to the future, think about the positive impact RCEM has created and the road ahead for us to continue with more vigour and dedication. We are committed to focusing on and inspiring our students to achieve academic excellence in their MBA education, be socially aware and bring about a positive change in the world as business leaders or entrepreneurs. We believe in the potential of students to rise to the occasion and create new things for society. The students should not only restrict themselves to being job seekers. They need to be dynamic, responsive and enriched with skills to address the community's needs. They should aspire to become job providers through innovation and the application of their entrepreneurial skills

Faculty members of RCEM are rich in knowledge and experience. They provide personalised attention and create learning opportunities for the students. They instil a universal value system to practice and uphold in their lives. The interaction between students and faculty incites students to achieve their aspirations and be successful in making a difference in our rapidly changing and increasingly globalized society.

We have a team of professional and administrative staff committed to helping each of the students generate enthusiasm to achieve more and stay connected with the college in any field of activities they pursue in their lives

Lastly, I would commit to providing an environment for all the students and faculty members to foster the brand image of RCEM. I invite all the readers and students to go through our website and take an informed decision to be a part of the mission of RCEM.
